

A WALK OF THE LAND THE ISRAEL NATIONAL TRAIL

A personal crisis invoked by the 2014 war in Gaza has motivated Udi to set out on a two and a half months journey through the Israel trail. The 700-mile long trek stretches Israel's entire length. It is world-renowned as one of the world's best and toughest long distance hikes.

Udi will be taking you with him to experience Israel outside of the headlines and the friction and to hear first hand about his physical and mental journey from despair to a newly found hope. The people, the national monuments, the mountains, the creeks and the Israeli landscapes- you'll encounter them all!

Join the adventure!

THE MANY LAYERS OF JERUSALEM

2017 marked 50 years to the Six-day War and going back to the old city of Jerusalem and the Jewish holy sites.

The talk takes an in-depth look at this remarkable city, discussing different aspects and perspectives: spiritual / earthly, East / West, religious / secular, old / new, different religions, etc.

It will make sense of all the scattered information people might have about the city, giving them a logical and cohesive idea of one of the oldest cities in the world.

The talk is accompanied by Udi's photography and video and by high quality graphics. The talk or a similar workshop can fit all ages 6 and up.

BETWEEN YOM HAZIKARON AND YOM HA'ATZMAUT

Israel's Memorial Day and Independence Day are a unique phenomenon as they were set on consecutive days.

The need to fight for Israel's establishment and safety is prominent in Israeli politics and everyday life.

This program includes a discussion about Israeli history and society in regards to safety and security, military service, conceptions and societal norms.

This talk is meant for both sides of the political spectrum, making them ask questions while giving them tools and ideas on how to answer them.

ABOUT ME:

I am a travel photographer, speaker, teacher and an artist.

I've always been fascinated by the secrets this world holds and after several years of traveling, documenting and collecting stories from around the world, professional photography became the next natural step.

I'm an honored graduate of the Brooks Institute of Photography in California and have had my work displayed in several exhibitions and published in various media outlets internationally, including National Geographic Channel.

I am now back in Israel, documenting its varied cultures, people and natural beauty. Apart from my travel photography and commercial work, I take on activist projects and aim to make an impact with my photography. I believe that when done right, photography and storytelling can bring forth great changes.

Extended activities available: workshops, photo exhibit, group discussions and more.
